Attention  mark

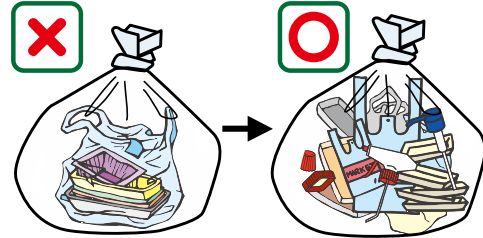

Plastic containers and packaging fall under this category.
Plastic Products (like plastic buckets) on the other hand, do not.

Please clean plastic items before disposal!

The following illustration has examples of items in the "plastic" category.

Please don't use two bags at once.

If you do this, we can't efficiently collect and separate trash.

Things that are easy to confuse.

Plastic containers and Packaging

Paper containers (Burnable Trash)

Tray Containers and Styrofoam also fall under this category.

- You don't need to remove labels and seals.
- We don't mind if you use supermarket bags to put kitchen garbage in, but please put all unused bags with "Pla" .
- We can't recycle dirty plastic. Therefore, dirty plastic falls under "Burnable Trash" .
- Wraps that were used for fresh food, fall under "Burnable trash" despite a  mark.

Things that don't fall under this category.
( Example )

Even though the items below are plastic, they fall under "Burnable trash", so please be careful. (See page 8)
